GERMAN ARMY AND ALLIES DRAWING CLOSER TOGETHER

Hordes of Russians are marching toward Prussia and Austrian Galatia
PARIS PAPER SAYS IT IS CERTAIN JAPAN WILL DECLARE WAR ON GERMANY

FRENCH, ENGLISH AND BELGIAN ARMIES DRAWN UP IN BATTLE ARRAY

Belgians in Outpost Skirmishing Are Said to Have Inflicted Severe Checks on German Forces, But on Other Hand German Wing Keeps on Its Way—Russia May Soon be Marching on Berlin

PARIS, AUGUST 14.—(BY BULLETIN LEASED WIRE)—THE NATION TONIGHT STATES IT IS ABSOLUTELY CERTAIN THAT JAPAN WILL DECLARE WAR AGAINST GERMANY.

LONDON, August 14.—(By Bulletin Leased Wire)—Pushing forward by weight of numbers, the German advance across Belgium is slowly but steadily proceeding and soon must come in contact with the allied armies, which, according to official communication from Brussels tonight, are in battle array at some point immediately to the west of the Belgian frontier, but on the other hand the German wing has kept on its way and has reached a line from north of Namur to Hesdin, which suggests that the first big battle will be fought somewhere between Louvain and Diest, where the allies are probably trying to block roads to Berlin and Antwerp and prevent the Germans from marching to meet the North Belgian advance.

Further south French troops have entered Belgium through Charleroi, going to the relief of their neighbors and to aid in any attack directed toward Namur, while in the east the French are reported to have secured possession of ridges in the Vosges Mountains and to the roads of Liedhomen and Sainte-Maire au Mines, through which important roads run and which, it is declared, gives them great strategical advantage.

The Germans again are hammering away at the Liege forts and, according to their accounts, one of the forts, Pontisse, has fallen. This, however, is denied by the Belgians, who tell of another slaughter of the invaders, who, they say, attempted to rush the fortresses.

Great Britain. These are without exception the German's attitude.

The probable attitude of Japan and Russia is also of great speculation. Conversations are going on between the Japanese government and the British and the French and the port of the latter would be permitted to take in the peace terms of the war. There are persistent rumors that Italy will amassioner is a frequent caller at the foreign office.

Germany May Make War on Turkey.

It should prove correct that Turkey has not yet made up her mind and there is little chance of any peace which are unforgettable.

Germany and Russia are reported to be marching toward Constantinople and Turkey is said to be likely to make war on Russia.

They are reported to be making an attempt on the part of Turkey to reclaim the Dardanelles, which last was.

Thus far the British government has called no troops to the colors, but the British admiralty has issued a warning to all British shipping to be on the highest alert in the many rumors currently regarding alleged victories or successes of the German fleet.

With the arrival in English ports of the German fleet there has been a sharp decline in the prices of provisions.

SIR JOHN FRENCH, Field Marshal of the British forces, who has joined General Joffre, the French commander-in-chief.

GERMAN FLEET IS BOTTLED UP IN ITS PORTS

WAR NEWS SUMMARY

Report of the continued advance of the Germans toward Brussels, the Bois extending through the country of Luxembourg and a line extending northward from Namur to Hesdin and of continued fighting at the Liege fortifications through the streets of the Belgian capital. It was stated that the movement of the armies of the Germans and the allies, it was stated that the movement of the armies of the Germans and the allies, it was first great battle of the war could not long be deferred. A despatch from Paris reported that the fortresses of Pontisse had been captured and that all the troops that had been expected were in the field. The Germans had suffered heavy casualties in the attack.

A despatch from Paris reported that the British and French had proposed to carry out their treaty obligations with Great Britain and that the Japanese had accepted.

Greece, it was said, would probably go again should the Ottoman government have purchased the German cruisers Goeben and Breslau.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 15, 1914

A ship has arrived at New York whose skipper frankly avers that he did not sight a hostile cruiser. He should be given a George Washington medal.

The dismissal of Chief Hill and Detective Kroming, and the re-establishment of his control over the police force, are the objects of Alderman Clark's campaign to get rid of the commissioners on the pretense of economy. That is the essential fact to keep in mind.

The captain of the Leipzig is reported from San Francisco as boasting to the German consul there that he can dispose of the British and French warships in the eastern Pacific "at the rate of one a day." That is a fine piece of defiance, and it is shown in the test of the Canadian gunners five years after their Parliament unanimously voted to put a squadron of powerful cruisers and torpedo-boats in the Pacific. And the stinging is that it is probable true.

In reference to the fight between His Worship and the Chairman of the Health and Safety Committee, it will be recalled that the meeting at McDougall Church was allowed to proceed in spite of a vote of censure on the Mayor, but that the Camara broke loose and disturbed proceedings when it was proposed to deal similarly with the Chairman of the Health and Safety Committee. The battle at the city hall was not the beginning of hostilities, but the climax. War was declared when His Worship's courage wavered and he fled to his coat and no longer stood criteria for doing what the public failed to find out who had been the chief instigator of the "wide-open" policy and what ends in view. Quite unjustifiably, most people will think, for His Worship certainly stood by his ally longer than was for his own good. However, gratitude is an unknown factor in black-hand tactics, and halfway support an ineffectual agent. Results are what are wanted, results such as were being speedily and satisfactorily secured so long as the city hall combination kept a united front. When His Worship weakened the jig was up and the way opened for the exposure and ruination of the whole system, by which the domination of politics—municipal, provincial and federal—so far as Edmonton was concerned, was to be in the hands of the "bosses" and "officers," and the saloon-club proprietors, and of the contractors and protectors of vice and crime. Of course, the Chairman of the Health and Safety Committee is after the Mayor. Why wouldn't he? And so, it may be assumed, are all the others in the combination which started in the year with full assurance that His Worship "was" with it, right or wrong, and all the way, and that he would do whatever he could take money wherever he found it and prepare to "deliver the goods" when elections were to be held. It is now, as his late Lieutenant unfeeling but candidly informs the Mayor, too late for His Worship to draw back and line up with those who want a clean city. It is. For the unspeakable conditions which were established by his permission, and apparently with his original conception on his behalf, he cannot expect to be excused. But one duty he can perform if he has any belated desire to aid the cause of decent politics and wholesome conditions of life, or even my natural inclination to get back at the combination who have rewarded his fidelity by throwing him overboard. He can take the public frankly into his confidence and tell them what he knows of the our own enemy.

Now what is the master with "in pots" of the "Bristol" type?

The season is at hand when the fellow who rocks the boat will give place to the one who handles a gun. The modus operandi is different but the results are the same. The treatment should be the same also.

The two German cruisers which British and French squadrons have been chasing around the Mediterranean ran into the Dardanelles, and it is now announced that they have been sold to Turkey. It is to be hoped the British and French commanders have heard of the reported sale and that they go in and sink the ships wherever they find them. Turkey is not a safe party to be trusted with dangerous weapons at this critical juncture.

A list has been published of the cases in which, since June, the Chairman of the Health and Safety Committee of the city council appealed to the police to prevent the punishment of keepers of bawdy houses, opium joints and liquor dives, and law-breakers of similar and associated types.

When the alderman was in personal control of the police force these classes did not require his services in police court, for they were not interfered with by the police. Assuming that the alderman gets into the police force on behalf of clients of these sorts, he must have thrown away a good many prospective fees when he decided to put the toleration policy into operation and thus killed off for the time his police court business. It is an unwritten rule of the legal profession to not throw away a chance to make money unless there is a compensating consideration in view.

His Royal Highness the Governor-General proposes that a Canadian national fund be raised to provide for the families of those who enter the army for war. If the task of providing for these dependants is to be left to charity an appeal the whole nation to contribute to a fund would probably produce larger results than could be produced by the efforts of local and unrelated associations; while the distribution of the money would doubtless be more uniform. But why should they be dependent upon charity? Their husbands and fathers are serving the nation at small pay, many of them at the loss of good positions or of business, and some at the risk of those they have left behind.

Two Weeks Ago and Now will be the title of a sermon by the Rev. F. W. Patterson in the First Baptist church on Sunday evening by Alfred Budde, who is the author of the little socialist.

The Attitude of the Christian Church in the Present European Crisis will be the topic of a lecture in the theatre on Sunday evening by Alfred Budde, who is the author of the little socialist.

The Rev. Mrs. Powell will preach both services at Grace Methodist church on Sunday evening by Alfred Budde, who is the author of the little socialist.

The Rev. G. D. Armstrong, pastor of Wesley Methodist church, has received a call to the First Baptist church. Several services will be held on Sunday evenings.

Surely it rests with the nation to decide whether wives and children, not as an act of charity and to the extent to which voluntary contributions may be offered, but as a national duty, from the national purse, and to the degree necessary to keep them in reasonable comfort. It would be a poor return for the magnificient patriotism of the men who are offering their lives in defense of the Empire and of Canada if Canada should put these women and children in poverty due to the necessity of seeking or accepting alms. They should be given a regular allowance from the Dominion treasury, proportioned to the cost of subsistence and the number in each respective family. And that not as an act of grace, but as the wages of those who leave them to go to the front, and with no humiliating questions asked as to whether the money is needed or not.

VIENNA DESERTED WOMEN DOING WORK

Home, Aug. 14.—(Via Paris)—News received from Vienna says that letters addressed to foreigners to be sent to the post office are to be opened by the police, who either return them or deliver them to the post office. This was printed "opened by the state police."

Newspapers throughout Austria except official news.

Vienna itself is half deserted.

It is the opinion of the war to those in the capital is over, and that the price of grain that prices of food have risen considerably. The public servants are not available, and women are taking over the work.

WAR ENCYCLOPÆDIA

Admiral Von Tirpitz. Commanding the German "high seas" fleet. He entered the navy 1885, and became chief of the Baltic station in 1903. His creation of the German fleet upon which it is thought the Germans are largely relying for effective action against the superior armaments and numbers of the British fleet, is peculiarly his work.

Dardanelles. A narrow strait, 45 miles long, and from less than a mile wide to 1½ miles wide, connecting the Black Sea with the Aegean sea with the Mediterranean. In 1815 it is stipulated that foreign war vessels shall pass through the Dardanelles.

Bohemia. A kingdom of the Austrian empire situated south of Moravia, west of Austria, and north of Hungary.

Bosphorus. A strait connecting the Black Sea and the Sea of Marmora opposite Constantinople. No naval warships except those of Turkey are allowed to pass through the Bosphorus.

Bohemia. A State people settled on the extreme north-west of the Austro-Hungarian Empire in Bohemia, Moravia, and Silesia, and the Sudetenland.

Esquimaux. Canada's Pacific naval base, nine miles north-north-west of Victoria, B.C. It has magnificent harbours and the British Pacific squadron.

Lips. Principality of the German Empire, lying between Westphalia and Hanover. It was annexed by Prussia in 1815, and its heir is said to have been slain in battle.

Serbia. Belgrade town three miles south-west of Lige. Its chief industry is machine works, established in 1817 by John Cossart, an Englishman, who had been a gunner in the British shipping official expressed the opinion that the safety of the Atlantic is concerned, the risk to British shipping having been reduced to a minimum. There was no reason why trade between Canadian ports and Europe should not return almost to normal. The great increase in the number of Canadian sailing vessels, owing to many lines being taken by the government, has been a factor in this. It was informed that the first available berths are by ship intend to sail west in October.

Roumania. Chisinau town, second largest in the Neptun region, where commerce is increasing, the Dutch are building dykes, and the Danube is navigable.

Netherlands. A small country between the Rhine and the North Sea, between the delta of the Rhine and the sea. It is about 120 miles long as much as eight feet below sea level, about 100 miles wide, with many inland lakes, flowing several rivers above the sea, and with many earthen banks, flanking several fortresses.

Portuguese. Chaves town, second largest in the Neptun region, where commerce is increasing, the Dutch are building dykes, and the Danube is navigable.

CONTROL OF THE SEAS STEADIES FOOD PRICES

Risk to Shipping on the Atlantic Is Reduced to a Minimum

Canadian Associated Press

London, Aug. 14.—The assurance officially given that the North Sea is the only route unsafe for trading vessels, and the steady effect on shipping rates of the new Canadian shipping official expressed the opinion that the safety of shipping in the North Sea is concerned, the risk to British shipping having been reduced to a minimum. There was no reason why trade between Canadian ports and Europe should not return almost to normal. The great increase in the number of Canadian sailing vessels, owing to many lines being taken by the government, has been a factor in this.

Serbia. Belgrade town three miles south-west of Lige. Its chief industry is machine works, established in 1817 by John Cossart, an Englishman.

Lips. Principality of the German Empire, lying between Westphalia and Hanover. It was annexed by Prussia in 1815, and its heir is said to have been slain in battle.

Bohemia. A kingdom of the Austrian empire situated south of Moravia, west of Austria, and north of Hungary.

Court of Enquiry.—On Thursday,

August 20th, the city commissioners will call a court of revision to consider the matter of the new map of the city library in the South Side Library office, and at Barrett's store, on Kingsway Street.

To Care for Families.—A number of city employees who have volunteered to care for the blind and deaf-mute have formed a committee asking the city to make some arrangement to care for these people.

One such request came before the commissioners this morning, but no decision was reached.

Cooking Late Train.—The Grand

Trunk Pacific announces there will be a late train to Edmonton on Sunday, leaving the city at 8:30 p.m. and arriving at 4:30 a.m. The regular train arrives Edmonton 4:30 p.m.

Comet Line Resumed.—The city

office of the Grand Trunk Pacific announces that the comet line of the Grand Trunk Pacific, via the St. Paul and Twin Cities, has been resumed, a limited service from New York, and is due to real.

W. A. J. Becht, leader for many years of the "Young Men's Christian Association" in the Hague, has founded a society of this name in Edmonton.

The organization of the young men well-known local musicians, including the band of the Royal Canadian Guards, and Gordon Shaw has already associated with the organization. Weekly rehearsals will be arranged and concerts given during the winter.

Further information may be obtained from W. A. J. Becht, 235 Queen Street, Edmonton.

The body was given a 10 o'clock funeral service in the church of the Methodist Church.

The death of Eva Broadbridge, aged 3 years 9 months, daughter of

Mr. & Mrs. E. L. Broadbridge, Lee street, occurred this morning. The funeral service takes place on Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Methodist Church, Broadbridge Parsonage to Edmonton cemetery.

UNIVERSITY SCHOLARSHIPS.

The following students, ranked in the order named for the two scholarships offered by the University of Alberta in the June matriculation examination. The marks were examined by a committee of professors and the marks given were as follows:

John Edward McLean, 95.5 per cent.

Miss Margaret Gold, 93.5 per cent.

William Philip Wagner, Victoria High School,

Hanna, Victoria High School, Edmonton; fourth, Miss Marie Marshall,

Edmonton; fifth, Miss Ethel

McKinnon, Miss Ruth Mahoney,

ELIGITIVE COMMISSIONS.

What kind of preferential voting

—if preferential balloting at all—should be incorporated in the proposed electoral system, said the elective commission, when it met at the meeting of the Elective

Commissioner charter committee.

The selection principle followed by the commission was to make a general appeal to the electors for their views.

During Monday evening, the charter committee will hold three sittings, and the work has been done in full, and the election is to be held on Tuesday evening.

The election of the members of the Elective Commission will be held on Wednesday evening.
